Part II – County Descriptions

Tampa Bay Disaster Resiliency Study

Introduction

The following section is a breakdown of each county, by employment sector, number of jobs, and wages. Each county is divided among the Traffic Evacuation Zones (TEAs). TEAs are a commonly used geographic zoning designation. There are over 100 TEAs in the four county region.

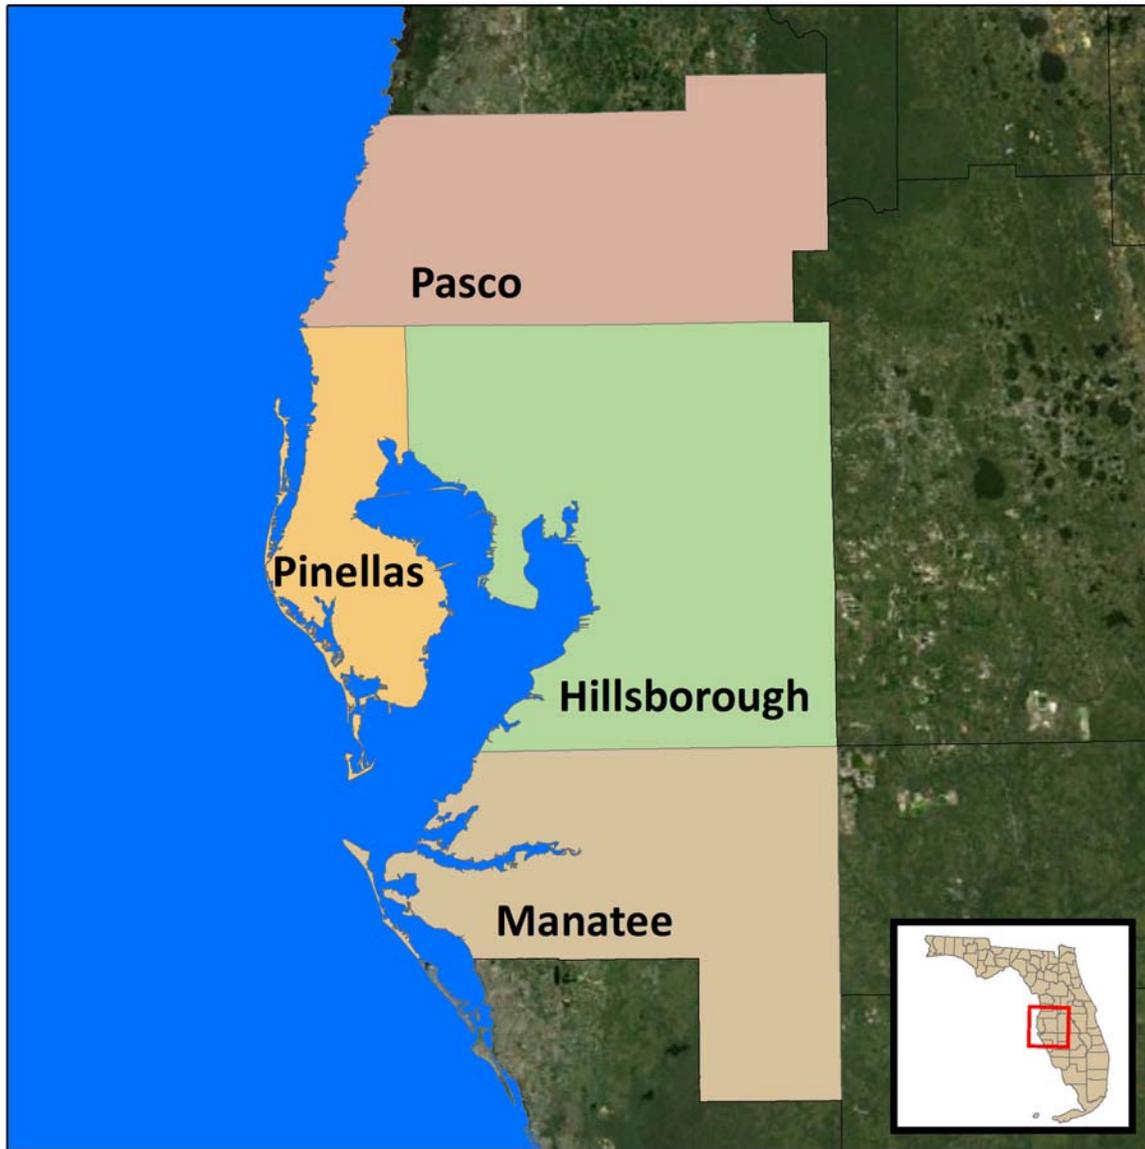

The data is from the Quarterly Census Employment and Wages (QCEW). The QCEW program collects the number of employers or reporting units, monthly employment, average employment, total wages, and average wages by the North American Industry Classification System (NAICS). The count covers 98% of U.S. jobs available by industry at the county, Metropolitan Statistical Areas, state and national levels; by major industry or by detailed industry categories.

The QCEW program derives data from quarterly tax reports submitted to the State of Florida by employers subject to state Unemployment Insurance (UI) laws. Multi-establishment employers also provide individual worksite data. These reports provided information on the number of people employed and the wages paid to the employees each quarter. The QCEW/ES-202 program obtains information on the location and industrial activity of each reported establishment, and assigns location and North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) codes. These data are then aggregated by industry and geographical area and published according to state and federal confidentiality guidelines.

TBRPC has a contract with Florida Agency of Workforce Innovation (AWI), now located within the Florida Department of Economic Opportunity. The data within this report is from the 3rd quarter of 2009. Sector data will not add up to TEA totals because of data suppression required to maintain confidentiality standards.
